

Group Study Program At L-W Stimulates Interest

History with generalized textbooks — dates of battles — encyclopedia reports? Not at Lincoln-Way. The history department has turned a few summersaults this year and has come up with a new refreshing and very practical program — group study.

Actually all the details are learned, but in a new way.

Large group instruction is the new way. This type instruction had its origin in the necessity of coping with expanding classes and faculty.

Like most schools Lincoln-Way high school has just too many students. More students means more rooms and more teachers. This requires more money and more time, both of which are scarce.

Lincoln-Way's answer to this problem is unusual—fewer rooms, less teachers and more students. Success is dependent on three basic elements; a dynamic and well organized teacher team; student realization of personal responsibility; and utilization of school facilities.

Lincoln-Way has shown foresight in building just the kind of facility that makes this program possible. The classroom structure takes advantage of the flexibility of both the auditorium and the new all-purpose room.

Students report to assigned seats in the auditorium. With the use of a microphone, the instructor delivers lectures and answers general questions. Filmstrips are shown frequently via a large overhead projector. The overhead projector is new at Lincoln-Way and is getting maximum use with astonishing results in learning. The projector is operated from the lectern—flashing assignments, study questions and explanatory drawings. It is visible to every student.

The auditorium activity is the same as the usual classroom work. It is the same listening, watching and notetaking that takes place in a conventional classroom. The amount of learning absorbed here is exactly the same whether a student is in a class of 15 or 115.

From the auditorium students go to the all-purpose room. Portable bookcases and blackboards are moved in and the usual lunch room is transformed into a huge classroom. This moving job is often hazardous. One day, Mr. Clark, history teacher, made the mistake of attempting to get everything moved near the lunch hour.

He and his equipment were soon trapped by hurrying, hungry students. One young lady concentrating only on the coming meal almost knocked him for a loop. She clutched him in order to avoid falling and he climbed the desk. However, the change over is usually uneventful.

In the all-purpose room, the students break up into seminar groups. A seminar consists of seven students. A chairman is appointed and is responsible for functional tasks; checking roll, etc. The chairman's biggest job is leading discussions and establishing harmony within the group.

The seminars are grouped according to interest and ability. Past records and personal interviews help determine the groups. The method is not foolproof as one lonely boy in a seminar of six girls will surely tell you.

However, every nine weeks these seminars are evaluated and changed. A new chairman is appointed. This revising eliminates any clash of personalities or achievements. The best feature of the seminar is its pliability.

Any size class can be formed by merely pushing chairs together. An average class of 30; ideal class of 15; a smaller group receiving special attention while the remainder of the students listen to a lecture. Any combination of groups can be made to facilitate different study programs. In many situations the instructors are no more than resource persons.

Charles Clark and Kevin McGovern, the Lincoln-Way instructor team, are regarded with admiration for this new effort. They have accepted the job.

Every day they set aside two hours for preparation. The filmstrips are previewed; lectures are prepared; study guides and overhead projector material is written up. Unexpected difficulties and unthought off problems are always present with any new effort. They try to anticipate these unexpected difficulties.

The instructors are a working team, able to equalize their burden. Their work is the pioneer study that may help answer some of the great problems in the American education at the present and future time.

Student reaction has been interesting and just as varied. What do they think?

One student answering this question said, "I like it because I'm not being babied all the time and I never have anyone looking over my shoulder. I know I have certain things to do and I get them done. But its up to me to do them".

Another common reaction is: "It's different from all the other classes and besides it's interesting."

The program is not perfect and certain complaints are heard: "I liked it at first but now the pomp and ceremony is irritating." A chairman commented: "If my group gets out on the wrong side of bed in the morning they are a bunch of 'deadheads' in the morning."

Generally, the program is already moving smoothly and most students in the American history classes agree: "There are a few things that I don't like, but I am learning as much or more than in a regular class and I think the program has merit."

The staff at Lincoln-Way is moving as quickly as possible and utilizing every conceivable method to meet the modern problem of increased needs and decreased revenue.

FIREMEN GET WORKOUT but it was practice. Departments from the Des Plaines Valley Volunteer Firemen's association met at Mokena Sunday (Oct. 1) to try different methods in extinguishing oil and gas fires. The demonstration took place on the Willow Crest school grounds. Departments with trucks present, besides Mokena, were East Joliet, Northwest Homer, New Lenox, Manhattan and Troy. Firemen from Lemont, Lockport and Frankfort also attended. Visiting firemen also had opportunity for a real workout. There were three grass fires, two along the Rock Island near U. S. 45 and one at the rear of the Mokena Wall Paper mill.

Harry Shepley, 77, Mokena --New Lenox Farmer, Dies

Harry Shepley, a farmer living on the School House rd., south of Mokena, died Tuesday (Oct. 4) at Silver Cross Hospital. He would have been 78 years old next Tuesday.

Mr. Shepley has been suffering from a heart condition for several years.

He was born at Manchester, England, Oct. 11, 1882, and came to the United States half a century ago. He had been a resident of the New Lenox-Mokena area for the past seven years.

He formerly owned a farm on U. S. 30 in New Lenox township, now the site of Lincoln-Way high school. After selling that place he purchased the farm near Mokena.

Mr. Shepley is survived by one son, William, of Mokena; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Cruise and Mrs. Jack Kokal, of New Lenox, and Mrs. Charles Friant, of Monroe City, Mo.; one sister and three brothers, all of Manchester, Eng., and four grandchildren.

His wife, the former Ann Loestcher, and a son, Thomas, preceded him in death.

Removal was to the Fred C. Dames funeral home, Center at Campbell, from where services will be held tomorrow morning (Friday) at 9:30 o'clock to St. John's church, Hickory and Division streets, at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in St. John's cemetery.

Friends may call this afternoon and evening from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 o'clock.

Frankfort School Board Discusses EMH Program

A program for the educable mentally handicapped children (EMH) in the Frankfort-Mokena area is under consideration again. At a meeting of the Frankfort school board Monday night it was reported that several of the other districts in the area have indicated interest in participating in such an undertaking.

Some months ago when the plan was discussed the Mokena grade district had a room available but no arrangement was completed under which participating districts would share in the additional cost for the teacher.

The state will contribute $3,000 it was said, toward the salary of a teacher employed in an approved EMH program. The Frankfort board is now compiling information on the subject. The school principal, Leroy Wright, has been instructed to communicate with the proper state and state school officials to get more details on the subject.

It is understood that the maximum number of pupils for such a room is 15. It is not believed the number of pupils qualified for such instruction will exceed that number in the area.

The Frankfort school board is now sending two EMH youngsters to Chicago Heights where such a room is in operation. The transportation cost will be approximately $1,000 for the two for a school year according to the information given Mr. Wright, the latter told the board, but what the other costs will be will not be known until later.

The costs will be figured on a per capita basis, it was said. Mokena has some youngsters who would be enrolled in an EMH class and there are reportedly several others scattered about the area.

Sixteen school districts in the Tinley Park area are sharing the costs of such a program and W. Leonard Patterson, member of the Frankfort board, plans to talk with the Tinley school superintendent, Walter Fierke, to get details of its set up.

That group of districts is maintaining some classes for the educable and this month was to have opened a room at Tinley for the youngsters designated as trainable.

GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

Persons with clothing or small household furnishings they are willing to donate to Goodwill Industries are asked to call Saratoga 2-5189 before 5 p.m. tomorrow night, Oct. 7. The Goodwill truck will make its rounds of the area next Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Valley View Cook Dies In Auto Crash

Stanley Stelman, 50, a cook at the Valley View Farm restaurant and a long time resident of Frankfort, is dead as a result of an automobile crash last Thursday afternoon (Sept. 29).

There was no other car involved. Stelman was driving along U.S. 30, some three blocks west of the junction with Washington street when he lost control of his car. A witness told state police Stelman was traveling 55 miles an hour when he went off the pavement and began to skid. He snaked down the highway, from one side to the other, police were informed until he finally struck a tree. The accident occurred between 2:30 and 3 o'clock.

Stelman was taken to Silver Cross hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Altho he used the name Stelman he was born Stanislaus Stelmazewski, in Jefferson county, Illinois, Oct. 9, 1909. His last address was 211 Collins Street, Joliet.

Surviving are a brother and sister, Paul Stelmazewski, of Midlothian, and Mrs. Bena Stanick of Oregon. Funeral services were held at Midlothian Saturday, Oct. 1 with burial in Beverly cemetery, Blue Island.

Plan School Safety Program

LeRoy Wright, principal of Frankfort grade school, has been instructed by the board to proceed with a safety patrol program.

The state is cooperating, Mr. Wright said, in setting up signs limiting speed to 20 m.p.h. in the vicinity of the school.

The school also plans to set up safety patrols to aid children in crossing the streets. Details will be announced later.

Lincoln-Way Directors Seek Ways To Trim Expenditures

Faced with prospects of more students and less revenue, the Lincoln-Way high school board is now concentrating on ways and means to meet such a situation.

The board has discontinued late runs for four buses, two at 4:30 and two at 6 p.m. and is now considering the possibility of elimination all transportation next year.

As mentioned previously it is expected the adult education classes will be discontinued after the end of the current term in January, and other moves are in mind for cutting expenditures.

Curtailment of activities in the music department are under consideration as well as cutting the athletic program. It is also suggested that use of the building for other than school purposes be limited and rentals for same be increased.

Figures show that where some schools in the Southwest Suburban Conference spend from $15,000 to $25,000 out of their educational funds to underwrite athletic programs, it cost Lincoln-Way about $1,700 last year above the $5,000 taken in as gate receipts.

The board also is studying curtailment or elimination of the student driver program. It has been pointed out that the driver program is financed for the most part by state funds.

The board has tried twice this year to win approval of the voters for an increase in the educational tax fund rate from 86 to 99 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation, and a boost in the transportation tax of three cents, from two to five cents per $100. The proposed increased were defeated.

It is expected the board will try again as soon as it is legally possible. The levy for the current year was filed Sept. 27. As a result the board is facing the fact that there can be no improvement on the financial position of the district for another two years at least.

Looking at the number of 8th grade pupils scheduled to graduate in the district next June the board expects enrollment at Lincoln-Way will be up for 1961-62 by at least 150.

The board declares it will maintain the current high standards of the school's educational program as long as possible and that it will hold to its salary schedule regardless of where else the ax must be laid to trim expenditures. Lincoln-Way now has the lowest salary schedule of any high school in the area, it was stated, and how it is going to hold teachers under the circumstances has the board worried.

One thing the board has in mind is the formation of a citizens study group to review the entire financial situation of the district.

Motorist Pinned Between Trucks; On Critical List

His car crushed between two semi-trailers at the intersection of Routes 6 and 7, 159th street and Wolf road, a Blue Island man was critically injured early Thursday morning, Sept. 29.

James McGunnigal, 52 years old, 12431 South Western Avenue, Blue Island, driver of the auto was removed to Oak Forest Hospital. Last Friday he was transferred to St. Francis hospital at Blue Island. He is employed as a brakeman for the Rock Island Railroad.

According to information by State Trooper Francis Patera, Dist. 4 who covered the accident, a semi-trailer driven by Robert Laws, 40, of Kansas City, Kansas was traveling North on Route 6 and was stopped at the intersection of Route 6 and 7. Mr. McGunnigal was following the truck and also stopped. Another semi-trailer driven by James Langvardt, 47, of Mission, Kansas also traveling North failed to stop and rammed the rear of the McGunnigal auto forcing it into the first truck; pinning him in the wreckage. It took 45 minutes to extricate him from the auto. The truck drivers received minor injuries.

The second driver, arrested for driving too fast for conditions, gave no reason for not stopping. The accident occurred at 3:55 a.m. The trucks, loaded with soap, were on their way to make delivery at Hammond, Ind.

McGunnigal is still being carried on the critical list.

FRANKFORT BAND

The Frankfort grade school band is to give a free concert Nov. 20, it was announced by the Band Booster's. The concert is to be held at the school from 2 to 3 p.m.

A BETTER WAY to combat an oil and gas fire than with an extinguisher is with a wide angle fog.

The thick curtains of mist shut off the oxygen and smothers the blaze.

THE WATER GOES ROUND AND ROUND and comes out here. One of the demonstrations at the firemen's session in Mokena last Sunday was 'to make use of a relay of hoses from different trucks and thru boosting the pressure with pumps. The volunteer departments are examples of community spirit at work. Members of the department serve without pay. Their only recompense is the thanks of neighbors.

Ill. Bell Users Get Rate Change In Frankfort Area

Elimination of extra charges affecting approximately 45 telephone customers near Frankfort has been proposed by Illinois Bell. The telephone company has filed a tariff with the Illinois commerce commission in Springfield to enlarge its base rate area.

The tariff charges will permit telephone users being added to the Frankfort base rate area to have urban type service without payment of an extra mileage charge.

Illinois Bell manager Jane Voltz said the change was effective Oct. 1. Customers affected are located in an area surrounding the village of Frankfort.

Miss Voltz said that extramileage charges will be eliminated for 45 customers and another 25 customers would receive reductions. There are 174 customers with rural residence service and seven customers with rural business service who have order urban type service.

Addition of a considerable amount of equipment was required to make the addition to the Frankfort base rate area. Substantial amounts of wire in cable were added, in addition to changes made in the Frankfort community dial office.

$100,000 Fire Destroys Bldgs. On Homer Farm

Fire, believed to have started by defective wiring, caused an estimated $100,000 loss to two barns, a cattle truck and milkhouse at the home of M. J. Cagwin, Bruce Road, Homer township, Saturday afternoon. Also included in the loss was 100 tons of hay and two full silos, which were made of concrete but were felled by the heat from the blaze.

Two pieces of equipment from each of the following departments were sent to the blaze, Northwest Homer, New Lenox, Lockport and East Joliet. The departments worked over two hours before the fire was brought under control. Fire Chief Morris of the Homer department said the fire was completely out of control when his men arrived at the scene.

Twenty head of cattle were led to safety from the burning barns and firemen were able to save other farm buildings and the family residence.

Cagwin said the loss is covered by insurance.

Adopts New Regulations For Cemetery

New rules for the maintenance of St. John's cemetery have been adopted by the church board. The cemetery is located on Wolf road South of the village of Mokena. Due to the increase in cost in maintaining the cemetery and for a more uniform appearance the following set of rules have been enforced.

All glass and pottery jars for holding cut flowers and planting of shrubs, trees and perennials will be prohibited. All markers and monuments in an unsafe condition must be repaired or removed. Winter coverings and wreaths must be removed by April 1 of each year by individual families or by custodians of the cemetery.

Long grave plantings have been discontinued but plantings of 18 inch radius or less front of stone will be accepted. The cemetery committee states the reason for this type of planting is necessary in trimming the grass and pulling of weeds around the headstones. It also gives the entire cemetery a more uniform and neat appearance.

National Fire Prevention Campaign Is On Oct. 9-15

Fire strikes American homes at an average of one every two minutes, but most fires can be prevented by eliminating simple hazards in the home.

As National Fire Prevention week will be observed October 9-15 a fire insurance company states in a safety pamphlet five important areas in fire prevention, namely, careless smoking, improper use of electricity and appliances, accumulations of rubbish, faulty heating and cooking equipment and improper use and storage of flammable liquids.

It also warns against smoking in bed, leaving lighters and matches within the reach of small children, emptying ashtrays into wastebaskets, and smoking near dangerous combustibles. It asks the reader to avoid "Do It Yourself" wiring, to be careful not to run extension cords under rugs or hook cords over nails, and replace frayed electrical cords or broken plugs immediately.

The dangers of accumulating rubbish in basements, attics, closets, and other out-of-the-way places are pointed out, as well as the importance of proper disposal of rubbish, ashes or embers, and all oily rags, outside the home. It also recommends refraining from burning trash or leaves on a windy day or late at night.

As a reminder against faulty heating and cooking equipment, the pamphlet asks if all such equipment, including flues and chimneys, is checked at regular intervals by service men, and if the home's furnace and chimney are checked in cold weather to be sure they do not overheat. Other precautions named with regard to flammable liquids are to use them outside, away from flames, sparks, or lighted tobacco, to specify non-flammable when buying paint removers and thinners and to prohibit the use of flammable liquids to start or "freshen" a fire in the home.

May Obtain College Credits At Hospital

Two college credit courses will be given at Oak Forest Hospital, 159th and S. Cicero Ave., this fall by faculty of the University of Illinois and Lewis College.

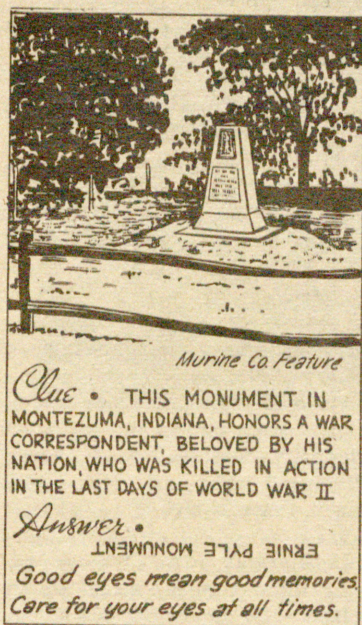

Introduction to Social Group Work begins Sept. 29, and every Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in the nurses residence. It carries two hours of undergraduate credit or one half unit of graduate credit. The University of Illinois fee is $18.

Principles of Counseling and Guidance will begin Oct. 3, and each Monday at 3:30 p.m. It carries three credit hours from Lewis College and the tuition is $60, as this is a private institution.

The Social Group Work course is designed to present background information regarding the place and development of social group work. Attention is given to the nature of groups in society, the development of group work services, concepts of group leadership, and the nature of group activities. Material is presented thru lecture and discussion, with illustrations from the field of practice in informal education, recreation, and social group work. Those working in recreation or informal education will find this course as valuable as the social worker will.

Further information including final date for registration is available thru Viola D. Ward, Chairman of the Education Committee, FU 8-2360, extension 342.

Get Praise For Safety Aid

Cooperation by police thruout the state is an important factor in Illinois' steadily declining traffic death toll. Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter told members of the Illinois Police Association at their convention in Peoria this week.

"Despite a rising death toll nationally, despite an increase of a million motor vehicles on our roads, despite an increase of more than a million in licensed drivers, the fatality total on Illinois streets and highways has fallen each of the last several years," Mr. Carpenter said.

"Our drivers license law is designed to get dangerous drivers off the road, and we are enforcing it vigorously and fairly, but it rests on the foundation of arrests for traffic law violations and convictions for those violations," Secretary Carpenter said. "Unless you act first, in most cases we cannot."

Mr. Carpenter said the success of the Illinois traffic safety program is evidence that police thruout the state are doing their part. He urged the group to continue to be alert and vigilant in the enforcement of traffic laws, because even with the decrease in deaths each of the last several years, the 1959 death toll was 1,765.

"As long as that many people needlessly lose their lives in traffic in one year, we still have a lot of work to do," Secretary Carpenter said.

"We have the evidence that cooperation among police, courts and state government gets results and saves lives, we must continue, and improve that cooperation to get more results and save more lives," Mr. Carpenter said.

Teen Age Charm And Modeling

Robert Williams, executive director of the Southwest suburban YMCA, 94th and Knox street in Oak Lawn, announces the opening of a charm and modeling course for teen age girls, beginning Monday, Oct. 17.

The four week course will teach the girls how to increase the effectiveness of their personalities by learning how to develop poise, to dress attractively and to make the most of their abilities and physical charm. Under the guidance of an expert model and teacher, they will learn the smooth graceful movements required in walking, sitting and rising; they will discover what is needed for a basic wardrobe, including colors, accessories and foundation apparel necessary for their type and will develop that "inner confidence" that comes from understanding their own personality.

Your Local Druggist Are----- Celebrating National Pharmacy Week

If a visitor to this country set out to find true American atmosphere, certainly one of the first places that he would visit is the nearest retail pharmacy. American pharmacies - from Maine to California, from Miami to Seattle - have a character all their own. In each, countless services are performed for you, and for others; by the pharmacist. You may know him personally, or you may know him only by sight -- but there are a few important things you may not know about him.

Today's pharmacist is a man of long and specialized training. To get his college degree, he must have acquired a broad and exact knowledge of the many technical sciences associated with the action, handling and dispensing of drugs, including many chemicals, biological products, antibiotics, and other medicinal agents. He must have passed a rigid state examination to become a licensed pharmacist. Then, like your doctor, he must keep abreast of the latest medical developments, the newest drugs, and the constant improvement of pharmaceutical products.

He devotes painstaking care to the preparation of every prescription your doctor orders. He uses precision equipment with scientific skill. He has an intimate knowledge of the thousands of drugs and chemicals he keeps on hand -- where to buy them, how to care for them, how to dispense them safely. He checks and rechecks every ingredient he uses and every step in his compounding technique.

Despite his long hours, your pharmacist enters into the civic and religious organizations and services in your community, doing his part as a good citizen and a good neighbor. Every day, in communities, large and small, he is helping to make and keep America the finest land to live in, and the healthiest nation in the world.

October 5-11 is being observed as National Pharmacy Week and this is a good time to show our appreciation to the nation's pharmacists for the many fine contributions they are making to the American way of life.

Beware Of Odd-Job Thieves

From LaGrange comes a story which is mentioned here as a warning to suburban householders to be on alert against unscrupulous gangs professing to be workmen in search of odd jobs.

According to the story an elderly couple hired a crew to clear the eavestroughs of leaves. This in time led to "repairs" on the gutters and roof and what started out as possibly a $10 job was parleyed into a $7,400 steal.

There are said to be some 30 persons, including women, professing to be ridge-runners or hillbillies from Tennessee, in the gang that has been preying on suburbanites in the past spring and summer.

The copybook maxims can be amended therefore, to include that a rough exterior doesn't necessarily hide a heart of gold, it can also be abandoned and malignant.

The story is somewhat vague as to just how the crew got into the big money. It would seem, however, that they managed to soft-talk and worry their victims into parting with their cash and never relinquished their grip until the bank account was drained dry.

Police and investigators from the Cook county state's attorney's office were called in but they found the gang had been cunning enough to avoid prosecution. Some of them had been taken into custody but evidence to convict them of a specific crime was lacking.

Therefore, it would appear that the best bet is to avoid employment of strangers.

It is reported that the gang is still working its pitch in Chicagoland suburbs.

Persons are still getting telephone calls from soft-spoken people whose tones reflect the southern hills. They are still using the same approach, an offer to clean gutters of leaves.

If any who reads this should receive such a call we suggest you ask the caller to excuse you for a moment, turn your head and begin shouting orders: "Tom! You and Ben load the shotguns with buckshot. Richard! Get out that 30-30 Winchester and fill the clips with soft-nose shells. And Tom! bring me my pistol. We got visitors coming!"

The chances are that when you turn to the phone again the caller will have hung up, to transfer his attention to one less prepared than you.

If he calls in person slam the door on his chin -- real hard.

If these mauraders now working the suburbs really came from the hills we can see why they chose the north in which to employ their tactics. Decent hill folks hate thieves and if they preyed on hill people they would be underground now -- really and permanently.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6

Read John 10:11-18

That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, (John 17:21).

On a Y.M.C.A. building I once saw the inscription of John 17:21; "That they all may be one." Through its attitude and what it does, the Y.M.C.A. seeks to give meaning to universal brotherhood in Jesus Christ.

Our unity is in Christ, our Shepherd. The fold is one, although there is a diversity of sheep. The pasture which nourishes these sheep is the Word of God.

To belong to one single flock and to follow one Shepherd is to conquer geography and enlist individual differences. It is the creating of a Christian brotherhood through our oneness in Christ.

Christian brotherhood transcends all barriers. It does not know groups, races, levels of society, nationalities, or denominations. In the diversity of ideas, traditions, and experiences, love bridges the differences and develops united participation and brotherhood. PRAYER: Our Father, through the inspiration of Thy spirit, we pray for the reality of Christ's love in our lives. We pray there may be no contradiction between our saying and our doing. Show us the Shepherd, Jesus Christ, in whom and through whom, in the unity of faith, we join our hearts in prayer. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

We love one another because God first loved us.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

What effect TV has on young minds is a point that probably will be discussed for years to come by PTA speakers and those who address medical societies and the various divisions of the head shrinkers.

The same is also true of the so-called comic books specializing in vice that could be advertised by the manufacturers in one simple line:

"How to Become Debauched in 10 Easy Lessons."

- O -

The nickel and dime novel of yesteryear came in for their lumps in that day and age and there were many who were convinced that perusal of such literature would eventually corrupt the mind of the readers and lead them into a life of crime.

On the other hand it was argued that inasmuch as the heroes of these tales were honest and imbued with high principles which were maintained despite perils or adversity, and that good always triumphed over evil, such books taught a moral and so were beneficial.

Undoubtedly some of those who read dime novels wound up in prison while others became useful citizens, many of them leaders in community life. But whether the dime novel contributed to their ends has never been definitely established.

- O -

Some educators hold that the use of films and picture slides are especially valuable in teaching on the grounds that seeing beats reading; that one retains the image of a picture longer than he can remember what he reads.

Holding to this argument one could reasonably contend that while the good guys give the bad guys their come-uppance in the end, there is a still a lot of fighting and killing in the western and detective films shown on TV that could have a bad influence on children.

- O -

But discarding the fact that some of these shows appear to furnish an excellent course in bludgeoning, garroting, poisoning and plain and fancy shooting that conceivably could enable a diligent student to obtain a degree as master of murder--they teach other things as well.

They teach untidiness. Have you ever noticed the careless way in which bodies are left lying around the premises?

One might expect that from the bad guys. One is not surprised to see them wield knife, gun or club and then make themselves scarce. The viewer knows that in time the law, or at least retribution, will overtake the villains-but not without a chase.

There is no reason, however, for the good guy to leave the place cluttered with the result of marksmanship. The reward money or the girl is there waiting for him.

But what does he do? He glances around to see if he has missed anyone, dusts his hands lightly, holsters his pistol or cradles his rifle, lights a cigarette or cigar and saunters off. Apparently he never gives a thought as to how all those cadavers are to be lugged off and the place tidied up.

- O -

Marshall Dil-lon is a nice guy, to use an example. He is polite to all women and the elderly and quite considerate of the weak and the helpless. He is neat in dress and person and appears to be well house-broken but he is just like the others.

When he kills them he just lets them lay.

Sometimes they survive long enough to get them up into Doc's office, with Doc or Chester or a couple of volunteers from the Long Branch doing the carrying.

And if they take their last breath upstairs apparently it is Doc or Chester who has to lug them down. And that doesn't seem quite fair. Chester has that stiff leg which makes it difficult to negotiate steps and Doc is getting too old to be running up and down stairs with bodies.

Sometimes tho, Doc puts on his coat and Mister Dil-lon and Chester put on their hats, and all three hurry off.

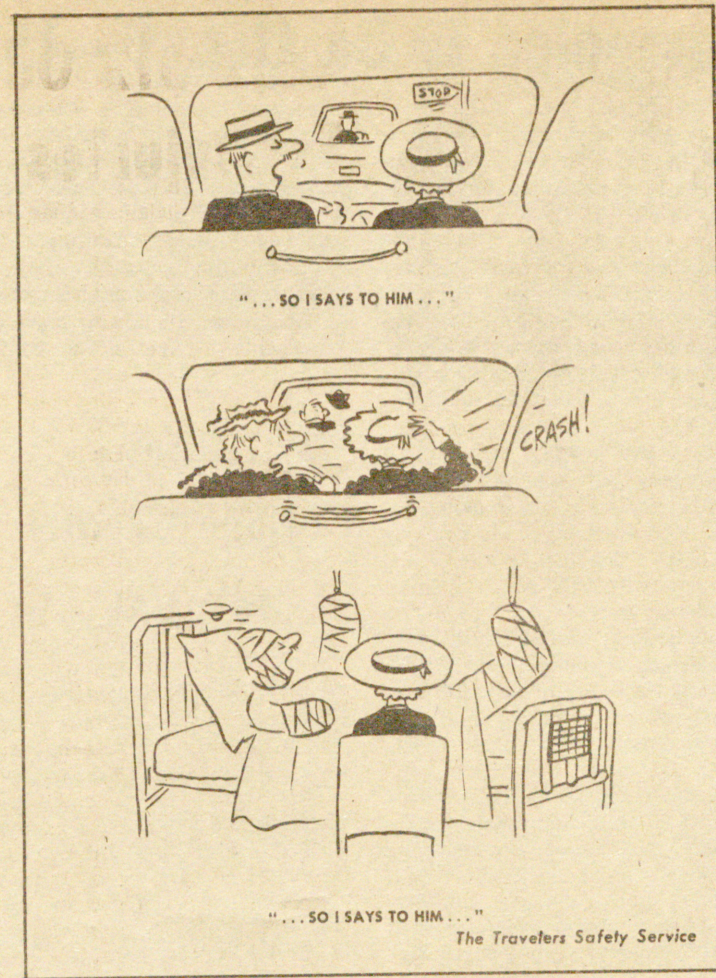

Since none of them get rewards, and none of them get the girl there is no reason for a hasty exit unless it is they are afraid the coffee will get cold or the beer will get warm.

Sure, they're nice guys alright, but frightfully untidy.

Maybe that is why some boys and some girls leave their clothes and belongings scattered about the house for someone else to pick up. Could be.

The Dishonor Roll

Letters To The Editor

SKEPTICAL CRITICS -- POSSIBLE ALLIES ??

Dear Sir:

My fellow "tax revolting" neighbor is a first class citizen and a social critic by disposition. He reads history and biography and keeps up with affairs thru contemporary magazines. On questions such as racial segregation, industrial strikes and the African crisis, his opinions are critical and display social vision. In so many matters he has the same deep commitments as my educational colleagues whom I think of as progressive and social minded.

When it comes to school finances and curriculum, however, the story is different. The high school he sees almost entirely as an over spending institution, over indulging its students and over athletically inclined. Conversely, he sees the school under-nourished in its liberal arts program, under-consolidated and containing under paid teachers. He sees the school as a tax-devouring giant spending funds in over-indulgence and condoning a deficit budget spending program.

Our neighbor delves into the solutions of educational problems with an over-simplification. He says deficit budgeting should not continue. I most wholeheartedly agree. I believe our board is economizing. The Board has appraised our budget practices and they will give you the most for your tax dollar. But first let us lay bare three basic factors which underlie school costs.

One major factor affecting high school costs is higher enrollment. This fact is obvious, apparent, undeniable and uncontrollable. More students mean larger enrollments. Larger enrollments mean additional teachers. It follows that additional teachers mean additional cost. The essential point here is that the schools cannot control the rising tide of enrollment.

It is feasible to ask, "What can the schools do?" We can assign teachers additional class loads by adding one additional class to the regular load of five. We have six teachers doing this now. We can increase class size and thereby increase the pupil-teacher ratio. We can, upon the completion of our experimentation in large group instruction forge ahead in areas of large staff utilization and the development of the team teaching approach. We can, and have, conducted a large scale research project designed primarily at reevaluating our curriculum and with utmost concern are re-examining our educational goals. The establishment of a lay advisory group is envisioned in the immediate future.

The second factor underlying increased school cost is the "devil" of the past decade and a half -- INFLATION. We realize our capital investment is large. Our physical plant and equipment require upkeep, repair and replacement. Are these costs exorbitant? The answer is "no". Thanks to our student body and the pride that they exhibit in their school our equipment has withstood the wrath of use.

As a means of economy, should we not limit our purchase of new equipment? Shall we be faced with making the choice between equipment and top-notch teachers? If one do not want to feel that we are faced with this alternative. It is axiomatic that quality teaching requires good equipment and teaching tools. As we move into the realm of large group instruction and staff utilization the importance of equipment and teaching tools multiplies itself many fold. Remember, a craftsman cannot meet the disciplines of his trade without the proper tools.

The third factor and most significant factor underlying higher school cost is the desire of the American people to provide their children with an education surpassed by none. The very foundation of Lincoln-Way's educational program has been geared to providing the best comprehensive program possible. Not under-nourished in the liberal arts but actually a little over-nourished according to the recent University of Chicago research study.

Not provincial or narrow in scope but rather broad in scope, offering an education not only to college bound students but also to students who will comprise the white collar and semi-skilled labor force of tomorrow. We are a competitive school. Our college prep course of study is "tough" and demanding. In essence the basic strength of our heritage is embodied in the principle that each individual be given the opportunity of an education commensurate with his native ability.

An Educator and Tax Payer. P. S. (Post Statistics)

The 1960-61 Lincoln-Way schedule lists 42 faculty members and 16-2/3% of them are identified as Physical Education teachers. Of these seven teachers, three teach Physical Education classes the entire day. The other four instruct only part-time in the Physical Education department while they are assigned additional duties in Math, History, Counseling and Drivers Education. If we consider a teacher load to be five classes we can then say that our Physical Education classes require the time of 4 3/5 teachers.

In our athletic conference we are competing with schools with a much larger tax assessed valuation than ourselves. We are NOT competing in the amount budgeted for athletics.

Oct. 5, 1921--A World Series baseball game was broadcast for the first time.

Oct. 12, 1492--Columbus sighted land, which he named San Salvador.

Oct. 14, 1912 -- Former President Theodore Roosevelt, campaigning for a third term, was shot and wounded by a would-be assassin in Milwaukee.

Oct. 23, 1915 -- Twenty-five thousand women marched in New York City demanding the right to vote in all 48 states.

Fire Prevention--The Job

Every 37 seconds a fire breaks out in some city in the United States, endangering lives and damaging or destroying property.

Every 46 minutes some one dies as the result of fire in this country.

These are the two impelling challenges commanding us to give a thought to fire safety during Fire Prevention Week (October 9-15).

It was the Great Chicago Fire in 1871 that eventually brought recognition of the need for a concentrated drive for fire prevention on a national scale.

First Fire Prevention Day

The first Fire Prevention Day was observed October 9, 1911, the 40th anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire.

In 1920, President Woodrow Wilson issued the first Presidential-Proclamation of Fire Prevention Day.

And, in 1922, President Warren G. Harding proclaimed the first Fire Prevention Week.

Each year since then, the President of the United States has proclaimed the week containing October 9 as Fire Prevention Week.

Last year losses from fire were a shade below those of the preceding year.

In 1959 the number of fire deaths totaled 11,300, compared with 11,500 in 1958.

And fire losses at $1,047,073,000 were nine-tenths of one per cent under 1958, the first decline since 1950.

The Job Must Continue

There can be no relenting in the fight against fire. There can be no resting on the laurels.

It is the job of all of us to continue our efforts to make America fire safe.

Have you checked your attic or basement recently for accumulation of the type of combustible trash in which fires so easily start?

Have you checked your electrical circuits and extension cords to make sure they are in tip-top shape?

Does your fuse box contain fuses of the proper amperage?

Remember one-fourth of all fires are caused by matches and smoking. Another 20.4 per cent are the result of misuse of electrical equipment. And three-fourths of all fires are needless--they are caused by human carelessness and forgetfulness.

You can do your part tonight by using care.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

A couple of years ago, Fortune Magazine made a study of the accuracy of stock market predictions by the well publicized commentators. The survey covering several years, indicated they were less than 50 per cent right and commented that their predictions were not much better than "chance" as to accuracy on the short term market swings.

We have been seeing and hearing many pessimistic predictions as to the business picture, but analysis by those close to the business picture as the Federal Reserve and economists of note, have noted that general business is holding up and that retail sales are actually greater than a year ago. They note that inventory accumulation has been down.

At a small gathering a few days ago, a leading midwestern investment manager who has the responsibility of directing investment policy of a leading Mutual Fund, suggested that in consideration of inventory changes, it would be wise to consider the new role of electronic business machines.

He pointed out that for the first time, business men can accurately keep control of the ration of inventory to sales and in all departments of the business. Without electronic computers and business machines, such controls were ponderous and comparatively out of date.

Obviously, the smaller the inventory required to handle a given volume of business, the greater the turn over of that inventory and greater the net profit on a yearly basis.

Thru use of these electronic devices, the manufacturer is enabled to keep very close to rate of end sales as against his production. In this way, he is able to schedule production at a rate that will enable the lowest sales cost against the best competitive prices.

It is not so many years ago that department stores and grocers did most of their buying thru wholesalers. Today, the wholesaler has a difficult time of it, as transportation and communications have been speeded up to the point where retailers can buy directly from the manufacturer and receive delivery of their order within a few days rather than weeks.

The grocery super markets make strenuous efforts to move its stock as fast as possible. With increased turn over they can show a much better return on capital invested and lower costs to the end purchaser.

Steel manufacturers with whom the buyer formerly had to place orders considerably in advance of expected deliveries, have long been making efforts to get their production closer to sales. They hope to avoid the sharp production rises to fill inventories and the sharp drops when this has been achieved. Profits are greater on a production curve closer to sales and labor troubles due to seasonal lay-offs are minimized.

As to current business, sales of automobiles are picking up. The steel business is reported to be increasing.

Farmers are reported to be expecting record harvests which will bring purchasing power to agricultural areas.

Contracts on Federal highway program are being let faster than previously and defense spending on monies already allowed, is getting out to contractors at a faster rate.

During the period of indecision and sagging stock market, retail sales, were actually improving, average individual incomes increasing.

The petroleum industry is reported to be in much better condition and a 4 per cent increase in demand expected in the last quarter of this year.

SANITARY DISTRICT BOSS STAYS ON JOB--General Superintendent William A. Dundas, of The Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, (on the left) is pictured with Vice President John A. Cullerton and President Frank W. Chesrow (left to right) of the Sanitary District, when Dundas was presented a resolution signed by all of the District trustees asking him to remain at his post. Dundas, who helped build the Sanitary District into one of the "Seven Wonders of American Engineering", recently reached his 67th birthday. Under civil service rules, retirement was compulsory unless the board of trustees asked him to continue. The resolution hailed him for his "genius and capacity for leadership" demonstrated during his 41 years of service. Dundas lives at 1234 Cherry St., Winnetka.

NEW SYSTEM for teaching history at Lincoln-Way enables administration to use large rooms for the instruction of classes. It also permits larger classes. This shows class broken up into "seminars." Each

Court Refuses To Enjoin Dogs' Right Of Free-Bark

(CNS) Superior Judge Samuel B. Epstein wants it known he is not going to interfere with the process of evolution, by enjoining the existence of any particular breed of dog. Monday he said so in refusing an injunction to a Western Springs resident against his neighbor continuing to keep mother and daughter Schnauzer dogs who bark too much.

James H. Richardson, 62, a bacteriologist, and his wife, Francis, 61, a spare-time artist, of 4129 Rose street, Western Springs, asked the injunction against Robert E. Smith, 4131 Rose street, owner of the dogs.

Richardson testified that the animals, Heidi, 3, and Peachie, 2, are "continuously screeching, howling, and jumping" against his four-foot fence and the shrubbery that separates the yards. He exhibited a diary showing what hours they barked, and added he has no objection to most breeds of dogs but dislikes their shrill bark.

His attorney, Albert G. Scheele, called as witness Dr. David Sligh, 25 East Washington st., a psychiatrist, who testified his examination of Mrs. Richardson Sept. 16 showed as a result of the dog barking she was "disturbed, in an anxious and depressed state, and losing sleep." She has been unable to finish more than one pic-

Recommends Board Study School Needs

While the Frankfort school district is not in immediate need for another school plant, W. Leonard Patterson, one of the members of the board of education suggested it might be wise if the board began now to get information together that would be of help when a new building was necessary.

The clerk was instructed to write state school authorities and the Illinois Association of School boards for information on the subject. Patterson's idea is to get such information early, pass it along to the public so the people would be familiar with the subject when asked to approve a bond issue.

There are guides for prospective home builders as to what to plan for, what to look for, what to avoid in building a house, it was pointed out, and school boards could make use of similar guides, independent of architects and bond dealers that would be retained later.

The school district has a building site in Connecticut Hills, donated by the owners of that development.

Mokena Girl Gets $12,000 For Injuries

A $12,000 judgment has been awarded to Nancy Armin, of Mokena for injuries that have left her paralyzed from the waist down. The judgment was handed down in the Will county circuit court.

Miss Armin was shot in the back Jan. 9, 1959, when she was living in an apartment at 502 W. Jefferson St., Joliet, by LeRoy Stanton Bardwell, who at the time was on parole from Stateville.

Bardwell fled but was captured a few hours later and returned to prison. His original sentence was 1-20 years for armed robbery.

Miss Armin contended that Bardwell was drunk and her suit was filed under the dram shop act against the operators of three Joliet saloons as well as the owners of two of the buildings. She asked $20,000 from each of 10 defendants or a total of $200,000.

Defendants in the case were Thomas Kokas and George C. Contos, operators of the Union bar at 101 Jefferson street; John and Mary Samios, owners of such building; Frank and Jeanette Budzinski, operators of Frankie's Package Liquor Store and Tap Room, 384 W. Jefferson; Nick and Tessie Demos, owners of the building; Frank and Emily Kula, owners and operators of the Waterfront tavern.

Crack Down On Drivers Violating School Laws

New Lenox, which has ordinances of its own against passing school buses halted to take on or discharge passengers and limiting speed in school zones, is cracking down on violators.

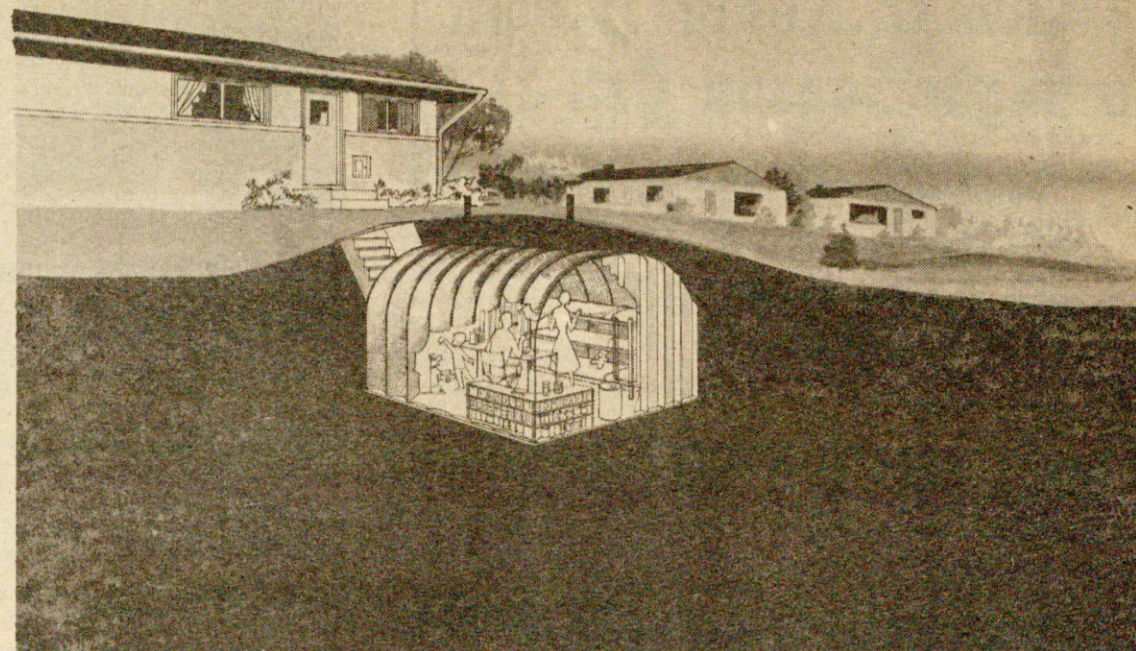

Two men were fined Monday (Oct. 3) by Justice of the Peace R. D. Konapeck for passing halted school buses. One of them, Oscar Calvin Davis, 25, who is employed by a sewer contractor, passed up a school bus on N. Cedar road last week. He was driving a dump truck. Monday he pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and assessed $5 costs.

Chief of Police George Kennedy who arrested Davis, also arrested Alphonse Montuori, 32, of Lockport, for a similar offense Sept. 7. On Monday Montuori paid a fine of $15 and $5 costs.

Also fined Monday was Mrs. Diana Anast, of Dolton, Ill. She was arrested by Chief Kennedy for driving 42 miles an hour in a 20 m. p.h. school zone on N. Cedar. She paid $10 and $5 costs.

Last Friday Kennedy arrested Miss A. Webber, Francis rd., New Lenox on a charge of driving 40 miles an hour in the school zone on Cedar road. He also paid a $10 fine and $5 costs.

Miss Webber was arrested at 11:25 a.m. and Mrs. Anast at 10:50

A NEW LOW COST line of steel family fallout shelters was unveiled by Governor Leo A. Hoegh, Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, recently. Above is cutaway drawing which shows a typical family in one of the Wonder Building living shelters manufactured by the Wonder Building Corporation of America. The shelter shown above will be installed in the back or front yard for the total price of from $1095. Basement shelters are available for $295 f.o.b. Chicago. The development of the low cost all-steel shelters which cut construction costs 40% was hailed as a major breakthrough by Governor Hoegh. The shelters will protect families from radiation effects.

View Low Cost Fallout Shelter In Tinley

Thousands of visitors to the recent Tinley Park fall festival availed themselves of the opportunity to examine and enter a low-cost fallout shelter.

The particular model exhibited is designed for use in the basement of a home.

This was the first such showing of the shelter in the Chicago area and was obtained thru the cooperation and at the expense of Robert Schless, vice-president of the Schless Construction Company, of Downers Grove.

The local men responsible for its showing are Ray Sullivan, director of civil defense, and Joseph McCarthy.

When the Wonder Building living shelters were first introduced last August, Leo A. Hoegh, director of the office of Civil and Defense mobilization, remarked "that they not only conform to CDM protection standards, but also represent a major breakthrough in making lowcost shelters readily available to every American family." The shelter displayed sells for as low as $295 f.o.b. Chicago. They are approved for F. H. A. insured mortgages.

The patented pre-engineered packaged shelters are available for both basement and earth-covered installation. They are also available in larger units for industrial, farm and school use.

Civilian Defense studies have indicated that in the event of nuclear attack four times as many people, if left unprotected would die from fallout as would be killed by the blast and heat of the actual explosion.

The Wonder Building living shelters are pre-engineered and pre-formed trussless arches fabricated of 2 feet wide sheets of zinc coated steel. The self-supporting arches are secured by simple nut and bolt fasteners.

The one displayed in Tinley Park can be installed on a do-it-yourself basis with household tools in eight hours. The inner steel arch is surrounded on all sides by high steel bulkhead. Sand or gravel are poured in the foot wide space between the arch and the bulkhead, and over the top of the structure.

Mrs. Elizabeth Longshore

Mrs. Longshore, of New Lenox, Ill. says, "In the past I have used all kinds of washing sodas, water softeners, and have experimented with almost all kinds of washing soaps and powders. No matter what combination I tried, I could not consistently get the kind of results I wanted until I used MIRACLE WHITE, super water softener concentrate. Now my wash is clean, soft, white and bright. It is a wonderful sensation to see clothes change from ordinary looking to a new look."

Do as Mrs. Longshore and thousands of other suburbanites. Use MIRACLE WHITE. Soft Water Concentrated. No need to fret any longer or spend long tedious hours doing the household chores. Great whether you have a softener or not. Try it in the bath if you have dry skin. Watch the tub stay clean, too.

Serious Overcrowded Conditions Exist In State Mental Hospitals

More than half the buildings of the state mental hospitals are from 50 to 115 years old, and judged by minimum standards of the Illinois Department of Public Health, are about 42 per cent overcrowded.

They house 11,000 more mentally ill and about 3,000 more mentally deficient persons than they should. Some 1,200 children now needing care are on a one to three-year waiting list for admittance to Dixon and Lincoln institutions.

The Public Welfare Commissioners report that many of these buildings are grave safety and health hazards. Some, originally intended for temporary occupancy, have been in regular use for more than 20 years.

Conditions such as these can be improved by passage of the $150,000,000 bond issue in the Nov. 8 general election.

To show the poignant need for better care and facilities for the mentally ill, the Tinley Park Times and other newspapers of the Golden Triangle chain will publish a series of case histories compiled by the staff of the Tinley Park State hospital, beginning this week.

That mental illness is curable is revealed in the true story of one man's return to the community after 26 years of hospitalization.

P.C. was one of over 500 patients who were transferred to the Tinley hospital in an effort to relieve some of the over-crowdedness of the other Illinois State hospitals.

The patient came from Mankato State hospital in 1958 where he was residing for several years following his transfer from Dixon State school.

At that time it was felt that his retardation was accompanied by other emotional problems which needed psychiatric treatment in addition to rehabilitation and training programs offered at Dixon State school.

P.C., who is now 40 years old was admitted to Dixon as mentally deficient suffering from epilepsy at the age of fourteen.

At the age of eight, he was struck over the head with a baseball bat which caused an injury to the brain and presumably precipitated the epileptic seizures a couple of years later.

Prior to P.C.'s admission to family of New Lenox; Mrs. Lydia Kohlhausen of Joliet and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bettenhausen and Marie Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Wise of Lockport visited with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smit and family last Sunday afternoon.

Dixon, he was under treatment for three years at Northwestern University Clinic, Chicago. Although relative improvement was noted, it was felt to be insufficient to alter the plans for his commitment to Dixon.

Due to his record of theft, P.C. received his fourth grade education in a school for incorrigibles. His hostility was directed not only towards the community but also against his brothers and sister. At one time, it is reported, he tried to drown his brother. The overall picture at the home reflected gross negligence, deprivation and parental inadequacy.

There is no history of epilepsy or any type of mental illness in the family.

P.C. made steady improvement over the past couple of years. His epileptic seizures were controlled through the use of anti-convulsive medications. The various staff members at Tinley Park State hospital helped in offering the needed therapeutic and rehabilitative programs.

At the beginning P.C. was granted a conditional discharge for one year during which he was seen regularly at Tinley Park State hospital out-patient clinic.

This clinic is operated by the Social Service staff aided by psychiatric consultation offered by consultants and the psychiatrically oriented staff physicians.

These regular clinic interviews are designed to help the conditionally discharged patients to gain insight and understanding. These interviews also serve to evaluate the degree of the adjustment of the patient so that the hospital may review his status and if found to be adjusting well he may be granted an absolute discharge or his conditional discharge status may be extended another year if patient's adjustment was found to be fair.

Because of the excellent adjustment P.C. was making he was given an absolute discharge as recovered.

For the first time in his life, P.C. is earning a living and is determined to be on his own. He is proud of his accomplishment as is the staff at the Tinley Park hospital.

Even though the responsibility of the hospital terminated with the granting of an absolute discharge, yet the staff is being kept informed of his adjustment and progress.

Escapes Serious Injury In Fall At Sewage Plant

A workman employed by the Wiert Construction Co. at the New Lenox sewage treatment plant fell from the top of one of the tanks Friday afternoon (Sept. 30) to the bottom, some 10 or 12 feet but escaped serious injury.

The victim was William Worrells, 41, of 526 Meeker ave., Joliet. The accident occurred about 1:15 o'clock.

Worrells landed on his hips and was unable to help himself at the time. Fellow workers hoisted him by stages to within a few feet of the top where stretcher bearers, maintaining a precarious foothold on some steel beams, lifted him out.

He was taken to Silver Cross hospital in the Baskerville ambulance. X-ray examination failed to show any fractures and Worrells was released and taken to his home.

Homer

Fire Dept. Plans Open House, Dedication, Oct. 9

The annual Fall Supper and Bazaar will be held at Homer Church on Thursday, Oct. 13, with serving beginning at 5 o'clock; a second serving at 6 and the third at 7 o'clock. Roast beef will be the main dish.

Fancy work and aprons will be on sale in the church parlor, and a variety store and fish-pond will be the attractions at the adjacent school building. Tickets are available from many members of the Women's Society, or they may be purchased at the door, in which case one may have to wait a while, so try to buy ahead.

Workers were appointed for the various jobs at the meeting of the society on Thursday at the church. Mrs. George Burcham is general chairman.

Oct. 9 to 14 is Fire Prevention week and the Homer Volunteer Dept. will have a house-warming and dedication on the 9th. On the following Wednesday they will inspect Homer Consolidated School, have a fire drill, and slides will be shown by Chief Frank Morris and Pres. Frank Townsend. They will be assisted by Lockport Fire Chief, Munson.

The Executive Board of United Church Women of the Lockport area met at Homer church Monday. Dessert-coffee was served at 1 o'clock, followed by the business session.

Monday evening at 6:30 the Will County Farm Bureau Policy Planning Committee held a meeting at Homer church after enjoying a supper of pancakes and sausage, which was also served by a group of Homer church women.

The Couples' club will meet Friday evening, Oct. 13; the place of meeting has not yet been announced.

Jack Hunter, was host to a group of school friends at his home on E. Division St. after school Wednesday afternoon, in honor of his 7th birthday. Fun and food with all the birthday trimmings marked the festivities.

Susan Reed is recovering from a recent illness.

John White has been detained from work by illness for a few days.

The Charles Adelman home is being improved by the addition of a large family room and an oil heating plant.

Debra Winke, daughter of the Richard Winkes of Rte. 7, was bitten on the face recently by a dog said to belong to Bernice Kokosz. The animal had been inoculated for rabies, but was ordered kept tied for ten days. The 2-year-old child was treated at the Lockport clinic.

Beverly Ann Pankow was the guest of honor Sunday afternoon at a birthday party in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Welter on Bell Rd. The little girl was 3 years old Sept. 26. She is the daughter of the Norman Pankows, 139th and Archer.

The guests were Tommy Beckman, Judy and Billy Adelman, Donna Welter, Ruth Ann, Carol and Betty Lou Welter, Cathy Castens, and Cindy and Tammy Temple, also her paternal grandma, Mrs. Jennie Pankow. The children played games and enjoyed ice-cream and cake, and Beverly received many nice gifts.

The Northwest Homer Fire Auxiliary wishes to express its thanks to all who helped make their recent smorgasbord such a tremendous success. The women are very sorry for being obliged to turn some people away because of the food shortage caused by the crowd being so much greater than was expected. Any one wishing to do so, may receive a refund of their money, if they were unable to be served, by contacting the person from whom they bought their tickets.

John McCarthy, 11, of Cedar Rd., is in Silver Cross Hospital recovering from injuries he received early in the week when he turned his bike into the path of a car on Maple Rd. east of Cedar. The boy was thrown onto the hood, struck the windshield and bounced off, receiving cuts and bruises. He had been riding on the shoulder of the road, and failed to watch the traffic as he attempted to turn into a driveway. The driver of the car was exonerated of blame as a witness agreed with him that he could not have avoided hitting young McCarthy. The boy is a son of the Richard McCarthys, and is a pupil at 33-C.

On Wednesday evening two cars barricaded the intersection of Rte. 7 and Gougar Rd., attempting to stop Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas as they were headed home from work. Thomas managed to get around them, and they followed the couple to their home on E. Division St. There they engaged in loud conversation as they stood in the road in front of the Thomas home. When they left, Mr. Thomas followed them, trying to obtain their car license number, and discovered they had none.

The Homer Volunteer Firemen were called to Bruce and Gougar intersection Tuesday night to extinguish a burning 1958 car at the side of the road. The license number was traced to a Joliet man, but the car had been stripped before burning, indicating that it had been stolen.

The Jerome Paddock family spent the past weekend sight-seeing at New Salem, Ill.

Larry Burnworth reached home Monday, after being honorably discharged after more than four years with the Marines.

All God's Chilluns Get Hands--All Made Same Way

BY ROBERTS MANN

Conservation Editor

Muddy footprints shaped like babies' hands can be seen on almost every trash barrel in our forest preserve picnic areas. These are made by raccoons which come at night to eat discarded sandwiches, chicken bones and other food scraps. The hind feet as well as the front feet of the coon are built like hands and are used as such for climbing, grasping and exploring. It travels flat-footed so that its front foot, especially in mud or soft snow, leaves a print of the palm with four spread fingers and a thumb. The track of the hind foot is longer with a definite heel. The coon feels for fish, crawfish, frogs and snails along the water's edge, scrubbing each thoroughly before eating. Full of curiosity and mischief, a pet coon quickly learns to unlatch doors, play with small objects and pick people's pockets.

The human hand is a marvelous mechanism, the most perfectly developed in the animal kingdom for all-round uses. It has the strength to handle a sledge hammer or the delicacy of touch of the eye surgeon or watchmaker. The flexible, sensitive fingers can perform extremely precise, complicated tasks. We are astonished at the flying fingers of the expert typist or at the rippling notes of a Van Cliburn at the piano. Man takes pride in his brain but without such a hand to do its bidding he would not have gone far.

The feet of all mammals are built on the same general plan and the hand of man is typical. In the wrist which connects the hand to the forearm are eight small bones in two rows called carpals. The five long bones of the palm are the metacarpals. Attached to these are the five digits -- the thumb with two bones, and each of the four fingers with three. All of these bones are bound together with tough flexible ligaments. The muscles that move the hand -- more than 30 pairs of them -- are mostly in the forearm and are attached by long tendons to the different joints. Without our thumb, which can touch the tip of each of the four fingers to form a vise, it would be very awkward to hold a pencil or eat with a fork.

Try matching up your hand, bone for bone, by feeling the front paw of a dog or cat. Both walk and run on their fingers and ball of the hand. The thumb is mounted higher and does not leave a track on the ground. The cat, unlike the dog, is able to sheathe its sharp hooked claws by doubling back the two end joints of its toes.

The feet of the opossum -- all four of them -- look more like human hands than those of any local animal. Their star-shaped tracks in snow are unmistakable. After the young leave their mother's pouch, they ride for a while on her back with their tiny fists clenched in her shaggy fur.

In some animals the fundamental pattern of the hand has been remodeled for special uses. The wing of the bat is a membrane of skin stretched over the bones of the arm, hand and leg like the covering of a kite. The slender elongated bones of all four fingers are present but the thumb is merely a clinging hook. The bones of all four fingers are present but the thumb is merely a clinging hook. The powerful hand of the mole with its five large claws is specially suited for burrowing. The paddle-like flipper of the whale shows no sign of fingers on the outside. Deep inside, however, are all the bones of the arm and the five digits of the hand.

Man learned to count on his fingers. Imagine how different our arithmetic would have been with six fingers on each hand.

A decision you must make that will stand for Time Eternal

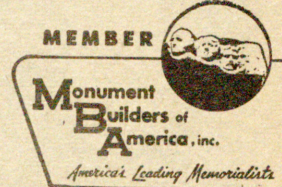

Once made, your selection of a family memorial will stand for all to see for time eternal.

Let there be no regrets. Remember that nine out of ten families select their plots in traditional cemeteries where they are allowed the privilege of erecting a monument of marble or granite, a memorial which will ever stand as both a tribute to the departed, and an inspiration to the living.

Remember, too, that your selection of a family monument should be made now while all are here to participate in the choice and give it the careful thought it deserves. Accept our assistance, without obligation.

Beauty Seekers To Soon Start Autumn Pilgrimages

Now that fall is officially here, the beautiful autumn coloring that enlivens midwest foliage will be in evidence thruout the area in a very short time, according to the Chicago Motor Club's touring department.

Within a week or two in some regions, longer in others, the brilliant shades of gold, scarlet, purple and red that present such a brilliant interlude between summer and winter will adorn the foliage in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

For the best fall coloring in northern Illinois the club's touring department recommends Starved Rock, White Pines, and Apple River State Parks, and the drive along the Rock River from Rockford to Dixon. The foliage in northern Illinois starts turning about the first week of October, and is at its best about one or two weeks later.

The peak of coloring in central Illinois comes about the middle of October. In this region the best views for fall coloring will be in the vicinity of Lake Bloomington, Lake Decatur, the Sangamon River Valley, and New Salem State Park.

In the southern part of the state autumn leaves will be at their best near the end of October. Many varied color scenes will be found near the cities of Marion, Carbondale, and Golconda, at Giant City and Fern Clyffe State Parks, and at Horseshoe and Crab Orchard Lakes.

Indiana's fall coloring schedule is similar to Illinois. Outstanding among the autumn vistas in Indiana are the drive along Ind. 37 south of Spencer to Paoli, and U.S. 150 from Vincennes to New Albany. A variety of color can be found in the state parks which include The Shades, Turkey Run, McCormick's Creek Canyon, Brown County, Spring Mill, Clifty Falls, and Pokagon.

The autumn coloring in Michigan usually begins about mid-October and lasts through the first week in November. The last two weeks in October usually are the best for color viewing.

To see as much coloration as possible in a limited amount of time—for instance, on a weekend—the motor club's touring department recommends the drive along Lake Michigan through Manistee and Leland to Northport, then down thru Traverse City, Cadillac and Grand Rapids to Holland.

About the first week in October foliage in Wisconsin begins to turn, and it is at its peak about a week later, Davils Lake State Park and the Wisconsin Dells area offer excellent fall coloring. The following drives in Wisconsin also offer good autumn coloring views: U.S. 14 between Madison and LaCrosse; Wis. 27 to Eau Claire; Wis. 55 north of Shawano; Wis. 35 along the Mississippi River; and the Door County Peninsula.

FRIDAY! THE GREATEST SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

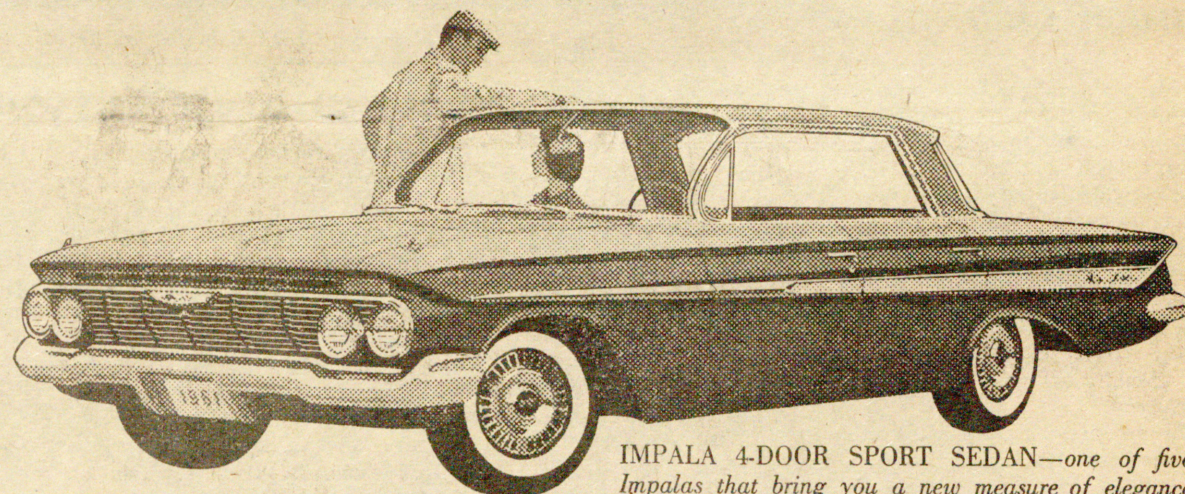

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

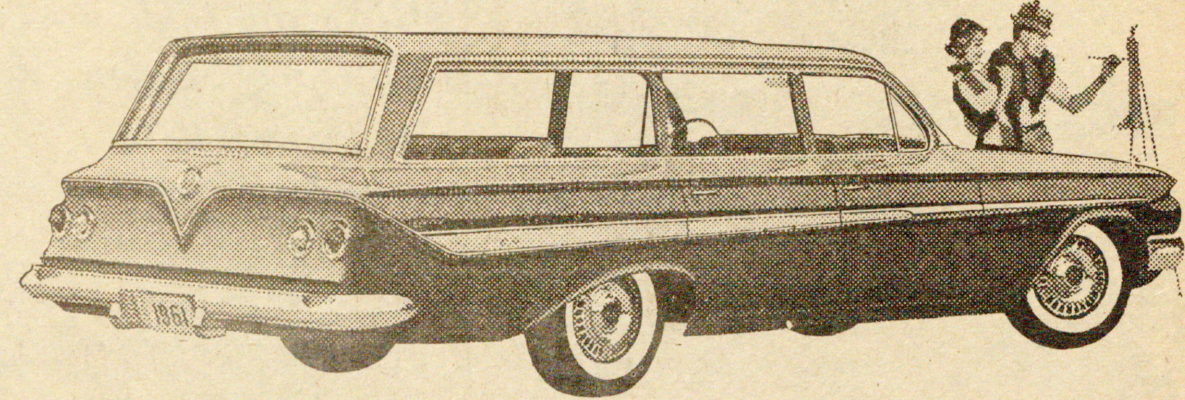

INTRODUCING THE '61 CHEVY BISCAYNE 6

the lowest priced full-sized Chevy with big-car comfort at small-car prices!

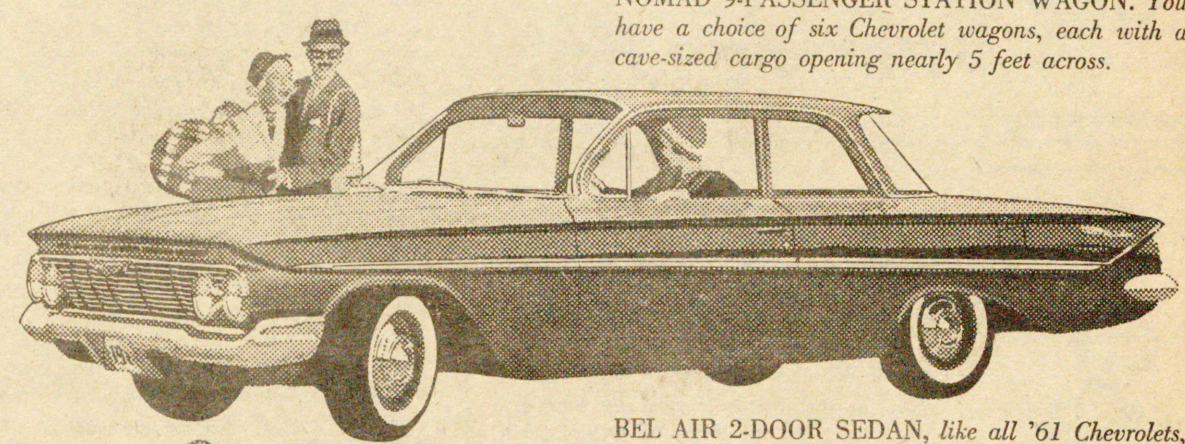

Chevy's new '61 Biscaynes—6 or V8—give you a full measure of Chevrolet quality, roominess and proved performance—yet they're priced down with many cars that give you a lot less! Now you can have economy and comfort, too!

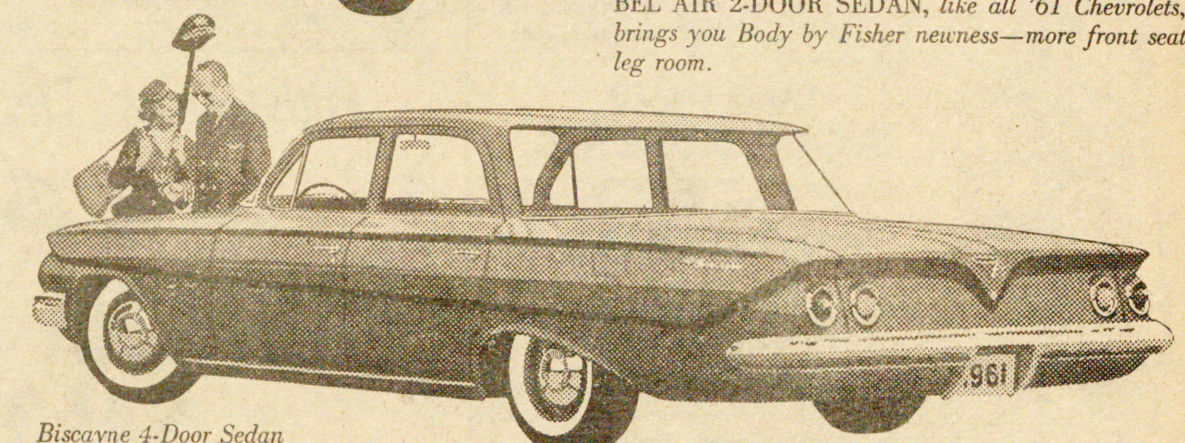

IMPALA 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN—one of five Impalas that bring you a new measure of elegance from the most elegant Chevis of all.

NOMAD 9-PASSENGER STATION WAGON. You have a choice of six Chevrolet wagons, each with a cave-sized cargo opening nearly 5 feet across.

BEL AIR 2-DOOR SEDAN, like all '61 Chevrolets, brings you Body by Fisher newness—more front seat leg room.

KNIGHTS, EAGLES ARE WINNERS

Sandburg Shuts Out Rich Gridders, 12-0

Carl Sandburg's high flying Eagles swooped down on Rich last week-end for a fast kill and when the final whistle sounded Sandburg was on top of a 12 to 0 score.

It was the Eagles second conference win and its third victory of the season.

Coach Joe Devine, of Sandburg, has a big team and a good team this year and anyone in the SWA conference who beats them will have quite a job.

The Eagles' line is one of those kind that you would rather have on your side than play against and he has some fast backs that know what to do when holes are opened or a defensive player is boxed off or cut down.

So far Sandburg has not been throwing the ball much this season but as an observer remarked:

"Why should they pass; they are going fast enough on the ground."

Rich has dominated athletics pretty much since the SWS conference was organized and some observers believed that the Eagles were a bit nervous when they started Saturday afternoon and the Rockets were able to do some gaining the first half. Nothing that put them too close to pay dirt but when the teams came out for the second half the Rockets were helpless.

The Eagles forward wall ripped the Rich line apart on offense and smothered it on defense.

Coach Devine, like many mentors does not exactly bubble with enthusiasm when discussing team and prospects but he did say Monday that his line was working pretty fair, thank you.

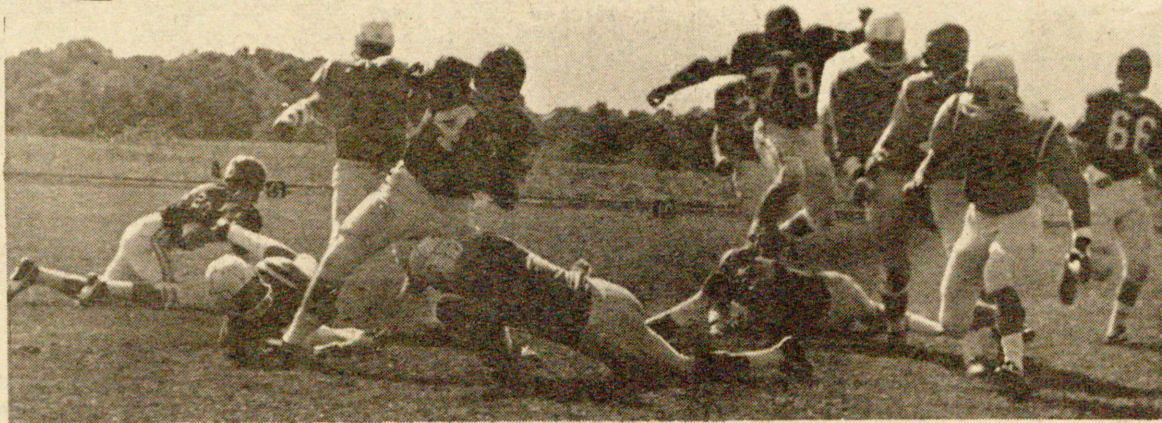

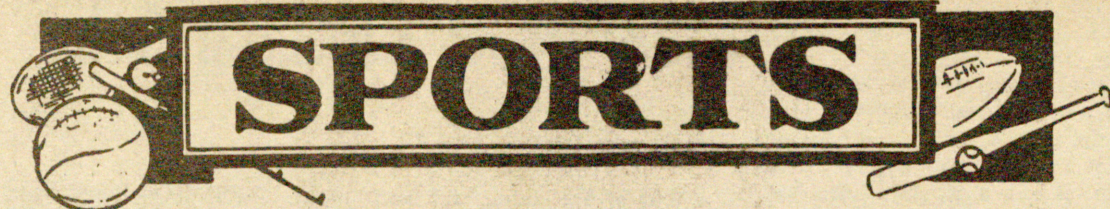

Dave Bormet, played a pretty steady game at center, Devine said, and he also expressed a like opinion of Chuck Kallstrom, a line backer; Paul Bush and Ray Henniff, his two ends, Bill Gorney and Ted Lavine, and Darrel Erickson, offensive guard and defensive end.

The Sandburg mentor also conceded his backs, Randal Cernich, at full, Jim Jeffries and Bud Swayne looked pretty fair. Sandburg incurred quite a few penalties for various violations, some of them resulting in substantial loss of yardage and these various interruptions held up the scoring to some extent.

In the final quarter Swayne cut loose for two touchdowns. He went 15 yards and a sweep and galloped 47 yards for the next one after getting some nice blocking.

Sandburg takes on Evergreen Park this week-end and observers believe the Eagles will not have too much trouble in overcoming the Parkers who so far this season have failed to get away from the post.

However, Coach Devine is taking no chances because in football, as in other sports, today's tabby may be a tiger tomorrow. Evergreen Park may come to life

AN EIGHT-YARD gain was posted for the Rich Rockets in the first quarter by Micky Brown No. 45. He was tackled and brought down by Bill Gorney, #65 of the Sandburg Eagles. Sandburg won their second conference game of the season 12-0.

Vikings Stun Braves 25-14

The Bremen Braves lost their second conference game of the season to the Homewood-Flossmoor Vikings last Saturday afternoon 25-14.

Spearheading Bremen's upset was Viking Bob Allison who scored one touchdown and then two passes one to Wright for 38 yards, and the other to his teammate McMannis for 15 yards.

with a roar one of these week-ends and Sandburg is hoping the turnabout will not be at its expense.

To make sure the varsity has been working hard this week and will be ready.

The Vikings kicked off. John Mannaioni of the Braves received on Bremen's 10-yard line and returned to the 25.

The Vikings took over and on the first play, Allison tossed to Wright for the opening score.

Phil Tunstall of the Braves received the kick on the 20-yard stripe and returned to the 50. Homewood-Flossmoor recovered on Mannaioni's fumble.

Allison's pass to Rheem followed by another to McMannis was good for the second Viking touchdown. Rover's kick was good and the Vikings led 13-0.

The Vikings recovered another Bremen miscue in the second quarter and Stine raced over from six yards out and it was the Vikings leading 19-0.

Bremen scored when Mannaioni tossed to Al Lussow for 20 yards, carrying down to the Homewood-Flossmoor 25-yard line.

Brave Rich Norbut pounded thru for 22 yards on two tries, and Tunstall carried over from the three-yard line. Tunstall added the extra point on a run-around end.

The game ended after Allison drove over from the three-yard line and Tunstall later scored on a 15-yard spring around end for his second touchdown.

The Bremen's frosh-soph rolled over Homewood-Flossmoor 19-6. Score by quarters: H.F. 13 6 6 0 - 25. Bremen 0 7 7 0 - 14.

The Lincoln - Way Knights, for the first time an important factor in the Southwest Suburban race, stung the Reavis Rams 20-6 Friday night. In a game played under the blazing lights of the Reavis gridiron in perfect weather, the Knights proved to all observers that they have the potential to take the crown this year.

Teavis, by far the toughest foe the Knights have faced thus far, used largely an aerial attack, while the visitors relied mostly upon the safer method, running all but five of the plays.

The game opened with Lincoln-Way kicking, but the Knights took charge of the ball four plays later on a punt. They immediately charged 67 yards to the end zone in ten plays. Skip Kruzich's 27-yard pass to Dan Fenn set up a one-yard quarterback sneak by Kruzich to make it 6-0. Fenn ran for the extra point to give L-W a 7-0 lead with 5:15 remaining in the first period.

This was followed early in the second quarter by the only Reavis score of the evening. Following an 81-yard drive, Bob Soukup snared a 15-yard flip from Tom Lunt for a TD. The conversion, a kick which might tied the score, was wide to the right, making it 7-6 in favor of the visitors.

Later in the second quarter, Ron Miller galloped 46 yards for the Knights to give them a first down on the Reavis 16. From there, Skip Kruzich hurled a pass to Wayne Lauffer for another touchdown, which was added to by Ron Miller's extra point run for a 14-6 margin. This ended scoring until the last play of the game.

It was touch and go throughout the third and fourth quarter. Each team had several good drives thwarted by fumbles and pass interceptions. But the only action of the scoreboard was the flicking away of precious seconds.

Late in the fourth quarter there was a note of despair in the air for the Rams, and quarterback Tom Lunt changed his offense to straight passing. It was to no avail, however, and with four seconds, remaining on the clock, the Rams were still 18 yards from the Lincoln-Way goal. Realizing there was time for only one more play, Lunt threw a desperation pass into the end zone. Joe Reinhard, an alert Lincoln-Way defender was on the scene, however, and he snagged the pigskin and returned it 105 yards for a grand finale to the evening's activity. Failure of the conversion was unimportant, and the Knights had put away their third straight opponent.

Victory over Reavis was particularly important because many authorities had rated them one of three "teams-to-beat" for the Knights. The other two are Oak Lawn and Sandburg, who are also undefeated and in a deadlock with the Knights for the conference leadership.

Saturday's game with Oak Lawn may tell the tale in the SWS this season. Oak Lawn has a notable defense, but may lack the offensive ability to outsmart the powerful Knights. If the defense once again holds strong, the Knights should beat Oak Lawn, because the Lincoln-Way offense has been unsurpassed in both the Joliet area and the SouthWest Suburban Conference.

The Knights now lead their opponents in scoring 101-6. Big Ed Smith and Paul Mlakar have bolstered the fierce L-W defense. Knights 7 7 0 6 -- 20. Reavis 0 6 0 0 -- 6.

recovered by another Eagle. No points were chalked up for either side by the end of the first quarter. Sandburg walked off with their second season conference victory, defeating Rich 12-0.

the new

Newport

... a full-size Chrysler in a new, lower price range!

Others in Chrysler's price class are building smaller, cut-down cars. Not Chrysler! You'll find no jr. editions in the Chrysler
'61 line. Why? Because a Chrysler car has always been a full-size, full value car. That's our reputation and we're going to stand behind it. Result: your investment in a Chrysler will not be compromised by lesser cars bearing the Chrysler name.

This is Chrysler's newest, full-size beauty. A car that calls for your most careful inspection. It's the Newport... a big car, a car that's every inch a Chrysler. Come see what you get for the Newport's new, lower price. You get Unibody. You get the Newport's Firebolt V-8 engine that runs on dollar-saving regular gasoline. You get roomy five-foot wide seats...
plus a driver's seat that's specially built to support you from shoulder to knee. PLUS many other features. Ask your dealer. He's waiting with a key and the widest smile in town!

Suburban Growth Is Real McCoy, U.S. Census Shows

Figures released by the federal census bureau for Illinois show that while the state has an overall population gain of some 10 million when comparing 1960 to 1950 half of the counties show population declines.

There are 102 counties in Illinois. Fifty-one, mostly in the south show fewer people now than they did 10 years ago but in the northern section the population has really jumped.

Cook county has a gain of almost 9% but that is small when compared to its immediate neighbors—38% for Kane county; almost 42% for Will; 63% for Lake and practically 103% for DuPage.

DuPage county jumped from 154,599 to 313,664 while in Cook the difference is between 4,508,792 for 1950 and 5,084,244 in 1960. Will county grew from 134,36 to 190,432.

Naturally the growth of the counties is reflected in the communities.

File Petition To Form Park Dist.

In Hickory Hills

(CNS) A petition bearing 112 signatures seeking to form a Hickory Hills Park district has been filed in Cook County court. The court is asked to set an election date soon.

The proposed district would cover all of Hickory Hills, the northwest part of Bridgeview bounded by 103rd street and Harlem avenue, and several unincorporated tracts adjacent to the two incorporated areas.

According to one of the signers, Mrs. Robert A. Montessoro, 9406 South 76th court, Hickory Hills, the petition seeks to take advantage of the proposed freight terminal in the area as a guarantee the park district will "have the financial means to operate."

ities, Tinley Park had one of the sharpest increases among the south suburban villages, climbing from 2,326 to 6,954, a gain of 199% but there are others where the gains are greater; Orland Park for one, from 788 to 2,591 or almost 229%. Park Forest jumped 268%, from 1,138 to 29,849.

Palos Park is up 153%, from 854 to 2,167; Mokena is up 47%, from 903 to 1,328; Frankfort gained almost 65%, from 685 to 1,128; New Lenox is up a trifle over 42%, from 1,235 to 1,732; Manhattan has gained 52%, from 728 to 1,107; Lockport is up about 55 1/2%, from 4,955 to 7,514; Lemont is up 23%, from 2,757 to 3,393; Joliet is up over 28%, from 51,601 to 66,359; Chicago has a loss of 3%, down from 3,620,962 to 3,511,648.

Chicago Heights is gaining. Its population went from 24,551 to 33,994, a jump of 38 1/2%; Blue Island is up 11%, from 17,662 to 19,594.

Oak Lawn is another "mushroomer"—it gained 213 1/2%, from 8,751 to 27,434.

Peotone is up 27% from 1,395 to 1,776; Crete gained 50 1/2%, from 2,298 to 3,459.

Rate High In Production

The Holstein-Friesian association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in this area.

Holmade Royal Lilly owned by Irvin Holm, Mokena, produced 14,257 pounds milk and 558 pounds butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as a five year old.

Butzridge Maxine Butter Boy owned by Albert H. Krusemark, Frankfort produced 14,470 pounds milk and 526 pounds butterfat in 305 days on twice daily milking as a ten year old.

George Ball, Wilmington, General Chairman of the 12th annual Cub Scout Leaders Pow Wow announces plans for the event are well under way. The Cubbers Pow Wow will be held at the Joliet Arsenal Oct. 23.

The Cubbers Pow Wow is an annual get together of all Cub Scout people in the Rainbow Council. It is specifically for those adults who play an important part in putting across the Cub Scout Program—namely all leaders, prospective leaders, parents, cubmasters, den mothers, pack committeemen—new or experienced.

Persons attending will spend a whole afternoon in one of four sections. In the game section they will learn how to play quiet indoor games, gathering—time games, relay games, and dual contests.

In the handicraft section, many simple crafts will be presented since boys build dreams rather than things. Leaders will be shown how to relate crafts to the theme.

In the stunts, skits, ceremonies section, leaders will learn how to capture the imagination of boys, how to bring to life the cub scouting ideals, how to make simple adventures more meaningful, and how to make all of the fun, the color, and the spirit of boyhood come bursting forth.

The pack administration section will present new ideas for the recruiting of parents, the planning of programs, and the organization of dens and packs.

The evening program will be built around a cub scout Blue and Gold Banquet. Dr. John English, Superintendent of the Joliet Public Grade Schools, will be the speaker for the Blue and Gold Banquet.

All cub scout packs in Rainbow Council are expected to have four representatives from their pack attend the Pow Wow.

The Pow Wow Committee consists of the following: George Ball, General Chairman; Ed Vollmer, Publicity and Attendance; Mrs. Edw. Herbut, Handicraft chairman; Bill Finn, Stunts, Skits, Ceremonies chairman; John Schimandle, pack administration chairman; Mrs. Bart Caponi, Games chairman; Mr. Joe Freeman, chairman
